Designed for Speed and Reliability

When it comes to redistributing fresh food, timing is everything. Our lightweight platform provides immediate, zero-friction links.

For Restaurants

Quickly list surplus meals at the end of the shift. Enforce pickup schedules to ensure your kitchens clear out efficiently.

For NGOs & Shelters

Scan available listings, inspect allergens or food details, and claim pickups instantly with a confirmation click.

Real-Time Status

Track food delivery from listing creation to pickup verification and final cycle completion.

Three Simple Steps

Getting fresh surplus food to those who need it takes less than five minutes.

1

Restaurant Lists Food

Enter meal type, quantity, address, and availability limits.

2

NGO Claims Pickup

NGO browses details on the dashboard and locks in the claim.

3

Distribution

NGO handles the transport pickup, and the listing status is marked as complete.

Why Partner with FoodBridge?

Join a community dedicated to food redistribution and zero-waste logistics.

Zero Waste & Green Rating

Restaurants reduce their waste disposal fees and can showcase their local community green footprint.

Reliable Food Sourcing

NGOs gain access to high-quality, freshly prepared surplus meals from licensed partners.

Corporate Responsibility

Showcase local volunteer efforts and build strong community relationships through food distribution.

Dynamic Log Audits

Both partners can verify and track all claim history data easily directly from the admin panel.

Frequently Asked Questions

Is the surplus food safe to eat?

Absolutely. FoodBridge enforces strict listing guidelines. Restaurants only list food that is safely packaged, kept within appropriate temperature limits, and within its food safety window.

How much does it cost to use the platform?

FoodBridge is completely free for both restaurants and NGOs. Our mission is to eliminate food waste and support communities in need.

How does food collection work?

Once an NGO claims a listing, they coordinate the pickup directly with the restaurant based on the available pickup window and address provided in the listing.
